(By Associated Press Leased Wire.)

Grain Prices Show Strength Early in Morning's Trades

Chicago, Feb. 16.—Higher prices here for wheat were reached today during the first part of the board of trade session, a substantial upturn in Liverpool quotations being a stimulant to buyers. Profit taking sales were in evidence, but they failed to exert more than a temporary influence. Opening prices, which ranged from 1/2 to 1 1/4, higher with May 1 1/4 to 1 1/4, July 1 1/4 to 1 1/4, were followed by a slight reaction and then by a rise higher than before.

Statements purporting to show that the domestic disappearance of corn has been at a rate much greater than is generally assumed to be the case gave independent strength to the markets for corn and oats. After opening 1/2 to 1/4 higher, May 63 1/2 to 64, corn continued to advance. Oats started 1/2 to 1/4 higher, May 42 1/2 to 43, and then sagged a little but recovered.

Provisions were sharply higher, affected by a new advance in the hog market.

ARGUE POINT OF LAW; JURY WAS RETIRED

Progress of Trial of Mrs. Obenchain is Delayed.
By Associated Press Leased Wire
Los Angeles, Feb. 16.—A technical legal argument was to open today's session of the trial of Madeline Obenchain, charged with the murder of J. Dalton Kennedy.

The argument was ordered made out of the presence of the jury by Superior Judge Sidney N. Reeves. Defense attorneys Judd Rush and Al McDonald, raised the point late yesterday, contending the acts of Arthur Burch, co-defendant, subsequent to the commission of the murder, could not be admitted against the woman.

This developed when the state sought to introduce, through Thomas Hilkey, proprietor of a downtown hotel, testimony as to Burch's alleged hurried departure the morning following the slaying.
Haley at Burch's recent trial, which ended in a disagreement of the jury, testified Burch left the hotel, leaving in his room newspapers containing accounts of the murder and folded on the pages bearing the last part of these articles.

STATES MUST GUARD AGAINST BUREAUCRATS EX-GOVERNOR STATES

Too Much Centralization Decried By F. O. Lowden Wednesday

Galesburg, Ill., Feb. 15.—"The self respecting representative of government will seek to lead his constituents to correct conclusions upon questions of governmental policy, and will not be content to be a mere automatic register of hastily formed popular will," said former Governor Frank O. Lowden in speaking at the Eighty-first College Founders Day celebration here today.

"Representative government," he continued, "is found wanting by some as in some mysterious way encroaching on the right of the people. Just the opposite is true. If the citizen were not permitted to employ a lawyer or a physician, would he not complain of the loss of his rights? So, if he be not permitted to govern through a representative of his own choosing, but must govern himself directly, is he not equally suffering a denudation of liberty of action?"

"The federal principle of government has never been employed on so large a scale before. It was the question of federal or state government that was the cause of the civil war. The federal principle won then and it has survived the test of armed rebellion. It is constantly confronted, however, with dangers of a mere insidious kind. The federal government tends to encroach more and more upon the just prerogatives of the state. Bureaucracy at Washington is always alert to extend its power. It does not distinguish between those functions which pertain to the federal government and those under our scheme of government belongs exclusively to the state. Hitherto it has found the states jealous of their rights and capable of resisting this tendency.

So the bureaucracies now seek to gain by bribes what they failed to gain by other means. During the great war, the federal government, in order to give unity to its efforts, undertook to do many things which the states had formerly done. It intruded into the administration of almost every field of state activity, such as education, employment, and public health. This resulted in a measure in the demoralization of state administrative agencies and therefore a lowering of the vitality of the state. The bureaucracies are now loath to give up this power. They seek to save the wounded pride of the states by offers of large federal appropriations. Propaganda is being carried on day by day, under the guise of liberal contributions to the state, which will result in taking from the federal treasury hundreds of millions of dollars of objects which must remain in care of the state if the state is to remain an entity in our national system.

The rapid trend of government toward centralization at Washington must be checked or the value of the federal principle will be dissipated forever.

"Bill of Rights"

Referring to the "bill of rights" in the federal constitution, Mr. Lowden said: "Among the right thus guarded is the right of property. I know it is becoming unpopular to speak of property. Men have come to discuss property as though it were a mere inert thing, connected with the life of man. Of course, property in itself can have no rights, but surely man can have rights in property, if such rights are essential to the welfare of mankind. There has never been a civilization in the history of the world that did not have its beginning in the recognition of man's right to the product of his own labor, whether of the hand or brain.

"Private property must remain if civilization is to go on, and the more people who own property the higher will that civilization be. Our concern should be not to destroy private property, but to distribute it more widely and more equitably. The path must be kept open for the young man of brains to pass from laborer to owner of the farm. The way must be made clear for the worker in industry and commerce to have a fair share of the profits which he creates. Men must be brought into more kindly relations with the raw materials and the forces of nature with which they work. This can be done only when men co-operate with one another in production, and thus come into better relations with one another. The greater organizing genius at the head of industry and the humblest worker in the mill are jointly laboring to produce something for the use or the happiness of mankind."

WILL REPEAT "TOO MUCH OF A GOOD THING"

The Golden Rule Class of St. Paul's Lutheran church will repeat the play, "Too Much of a Good Thing," which they gave a few weeks ago, and which proved such a success, on Tuesday evening, Feb. 21st, at St. James church on the Chicago Road. Assisting the class will be an orchestra of seven pieces. There will also be readings by Mrs. M. Shippert and Mrs. Beahm; selections by the Toot Girls' Quartette and a solo by Archie Dixon. The Loyal Daughters' class of St. James will serve a light lunch following the entertainment. There is every reason to expect that a full house will enjoy the program, since there have been many requests for the class to repeat the comedy.

The story involves a backwoodsman, country cousin, whose attempts to keep up with the standards of his city relatives, acting under the rules of the "best society," end in many ludicrous situations. Equally humorous are the attempts of the ultra fashionable Mr. Schuyler to keep out of the nets of the designing females who seem bent upon his capture. All of which is especially trying to the nerves of Mrs. Perkins, who faints gracefully, opportunely and frequently. An evening of pure, wholesome fun is assured all who attend the performance next Tuesday at St. James.

AGENDA CLUB MEMBERS ENTERTAINED.

The members of the Agenda club and their husbands were entertained on Tuesday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Russell May with a Valentine party. There were about fourteen present. The decorations honored the old Saint Valentine and were very pretty in red hearts and cupid. Each guest had been requested to take a Valentine to the meeting and they were deposited in a box and then each guest drew one, thus making much merriment. Then everyone gave some stunt, adding to the fun. Cards proved the diversion for the greater part of the evening and afterwards a most inviting luncheon was served, with the decorations following the Valentine spirit. The evening proved one of great enjoyment to all.

The next meeting of the Agenda club will be held with Mrs. Gertrude Petty in two weeks.

W. H. & F. M. S. ELECTS OFFICERS.
The Woman's Home and Foreign Missionary Society of Grace church met Tuesday afternoon at the church. Mrs. Phil Miller having charge of the devotionals and business.
This was the time for the election of officers for the ensuing year. The election resulted as follows:
Mrs. O. E. Strock, President.
Mrs. Edward Graves, First Vice President.
Mrs. G. W. Webster, Second Vice President.
Mrs. Carl Hess, Recording Secretary.
Mrs. C. E. Hill, Corresponding Secretary.

THURSDAY READING CLUB IN MEETING.

The members of the Thursday Reading club were entertained yesterday afternoon at the home of Mrs. William Stark on North Galena avenue, and a very pleasant afternoon experienced.
Because of illness in different homes the attendance was not as large as usual.
Mrs. E. M. Bunnell had charge of the program for the afternoon and she gave a paper on "Egypt," holding the keen attention of her listeners in this very interesting paper on this inexhaustible subject.
During the social hour a delicious luncheon was served, the decorations being daffodils.

DIXON WOMAN'S CLUB SATURDAY.

The members of the Dixon Woman's club will meet Saturday afternoon, Feb. 18th, at St. Paul's Lutheran church. The Civics department will have charge of the meeting. The subject for the meeting is "Ellis Island and the New Immigration," by Mrs. P. J. Macnishi, of Oak Park. All the federated clubs of the county are hereby extended an invitation to attend. The hostesses for the afternoon will be Mesdames Nichols, Lew Edwards, Jacobson, Ludeking, Lloyd Lewis and Lennon.

JUNIOR WAS FIVE—

Arthur Roy Curnes, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. R. Curnes was five years old yesterday and in the afternoon celebrated the event by entertaining eight little friends at his home. A merry afternoon was spent in games and music. The beautiful canopy of hearts and the birthday cake were objects of great admiration. The pretty favors were Valentines.

Miss Louise Murphy was the pleasing Valentine queen who assisted in serving the dainty appetizing luncheon. Junior was remembered with many beautiful gifts.

ENTERTAINED AT DINNER SUNDAY.

Mr. and Mrs. Guy Moxer entertained with a birthday dinner Sunday in honor of their daughter, Gladys' sixth birthday. Those present were: Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Fisher and children of the Bend, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Helrich and family, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Clayton and son, Howard, of Dixon, Mr. and Mrs. James Reid of Amboy, Mr. and Mrs. Will Fisher and daughter, Mary, and Mr. and Mrs. Harold Fisher, of Franklin Grove.

PHIDIAN ART CLUB TUESDAY.

The members of the Phidian Art club will meet Tuesday afternoon, Feb. 21st, with Miss Hitchcock, 407 East Third street. The members of the Phidian Art club have been invited to attend the meeting of the Dixon Woman's club Saturday afternoon at which time Mrs. Macnishi, of Oak Park, will talk on Ellis Island and the New Immigration.

MR. WADINSKI WON FIFTH PRIZE.

Frank Wadinski, prominent in the Moose circles and a most loyal Moose, was awarded the fifth prize for the gentlemen at the costume party given by the Moose in their hall on Tuesday evening. He was dressed as a comic Valentine, a "colorful" gentleman of fashion," and as an example of style and elegance could not be duplicated.

ARE GUESTS AT EMERSON HOME.

Mrs. W. S. Leslie, of Springfield, a former Dixon resident, is visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Emerson, of North Ottawa avenue. Mrs. Helen Sleight, mother of Mrs. Emerson, and Miss Jennie Barnes, both of Maquoketa, Iowa are making an extended visit at the Emerson home.

MRS. BOVEY RETURNS FROM CINCINNATI—

Mrs. Addie Bovey has returned from a winter's visit in Cincinnati, Ohio, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Will Casey. Mrs. Casey was formerly Miss Katherine Remington of this city and made her home while here with Mrs. Addie Bovey before her marriage.

TRAVELERS FROM THE EAST BAZAAR.

The Travelers from the East will hold a bazaar in Rosbrook hall, beginning February 18th and lasting until the 25th of February. The Travelers are famous entertainers and all attending the bazaar are assured of delightful entertainment.

ENTERTAINED AT DINNER LAST EVENING.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Ingerson, of South Dixon, entertained a company of friends at dinner last evening at their home. The decorations for the dinner table were frosties and ferns. After dinner the evening was delightfully spent in cards.

AFFECTIONATE, ANYWAY.

Professor's Wife—"I suppose you have forgotten that this is the anniversary of your wedding day?"
Absent-Minded Husband (abstracting himself from the comic section)—"Oh! What? Dear me! Is it really. And when is yours, my dear?"—Boston Transcript.

IF YOU ARE WELL-BRED.

You will never chew while serving yourself or others.
You will never have so much food in your mouth as to be embarrassed if addressed unexpectedly.
You will never press a guest to eat more.

ST. ANN'S GUILD HAD MEETING.

The members of St. Ann's Guild held a pleasant meeting yesterday afternoon in the Guild rooms at the church. The afternoon was spent in needlework and Mrs. Thos. Cheate and Mrs. Will Smith served.

TO ENTERTAIN WITH FIVE HUNDRED.

Mr. and Mrs. Lee Hefley will entertain a number of friends with five hundred this evening at their home.

NOTHING IS BETTER OR MORE WHOLESOME.

Than corn bread. Have some for dinner tomorrow. Use corn in any form; it helps the farmer. Besides corn is good. Of course you like it; we all do.

COMMUNITY CHORUS MEETS FRIDAY.

The Community Chorus will meet Friday evening at 7:30 at Coppins Hall and Mr. Leo will be here from Chicago to instruct the chorus.

SALE AT KENNEDY'S MUSIC STORE.

The Flower Committee of the Kingdom-Community Aid Society will hold a food sale Saturday at the Kennedy Music Store.

MRS. LAKE RETURNS TO WENONA.

Mrs. A. V. Lake has returned to her home in Wenona, Ill., after a visit at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. James Lohr.

O. E. S. TO MEET FRIDAY.

There will be a meeting of Dorothy Chapter, O. E. S. Friday evening in Masonic hall, at which time there will be initiation and a large attendance of friends is desired.

ST. ANN'S GUILD TO HAVE SALE.

The members of St. Ann's Guild of St. Luke's Episcopal church will hold a food sale Saturday at Campbell's drug store.

KEEP ON EATING CORN.

It helps the farmer, and whatever helps him, helps you.

ning, all through life, and at the end.
Where are you reading this? Look about. Count the articles you can see that are made of wood. In a steel railroad coach? Wooden ties, under the rails, are supporting you. The engine burns coal, a form of wood.
Life without wood would be next to impossible. Yet very little is being done to replenish our wood supply, the forests. Four-fifths of them have been destroyed.

MANY ROBBERIES

More robbery, embezzlement and burglary now than ever before in our history, says Francis M. Hugo, official of a big bonding company.
Trusted employees, gone bad, are stealing $100,000,000 a year. "Outside jobs"—including hold-ups, burglary and other forms of robbery—yield additional plunder of $250,000,000.
The total is $350,000 a year.
An alarming figure? Granted. But it's less than $2.50 a year for each American.
Crooks are stealing only $1 out of each $154 of the total income of the American people.
Be amazed at the great majority of honest people, not at the dishonesty of a small minority of crooks.

CROOKS

Unemployment frequently is blamed for the crime wave. Not so, says leading detectives and police officials.
Read the news. "Six well-dressed young men, flourishing pistols, hold up bank." "Payroll carrier robbed by smartly tailored gang who escape in large touring car."
Most of the important stealing is being done by fast-living gangsters,
habitual criminals and lounge lizards.
Don't slander the jobless. Most of them are honest, though often with empty stomachs and no coal in the bin.

FORD

Henry Ford's factories turned out 1,013,958 passenger autos and trucks last year, 928,750 of which came from American plants, says a final report,
just issued.
The record day was July 14, with a production of 4161 cars and trucks.
That makes his yearly capacity about 1,500,000.
When Henry looks back to the days when he ran a bicycle repair shop, he must feel dazed. Couldn't happen in any other country. America beats Aladdin's cave, for some.

UNUSUAL

Over in England, 110 years ago, wool was shorn from two sheep at 5 o'clock in the morning. In 14 hours
the wool had been washed, dried, spun, dyed, woven into cloth and tailored into a coat.
Sir Richard Throckmorton has the coat now, an heirloom.
Our ancestors weren't so slow, after
all. When it came to fast production, they could but didn't. Modern man produces fast, because he has to. No necessity for it 110 years ago. Necessity is the eternal and universal prod.

DINNER

Millions are wondering where their next meal will come from.
Other millions wonder how long their meal ticket will last.
Department of Agriculture says "A good covering of snow is proving beneficial to the wheat crop. The weather has been generally beneficial to deciduous fruit orchards in California. All classes of livestock are generally in good condition, due to the mild winter and abundant food."
Nature, exceptionally friendly to Americans last year, prepares for an other horn of plenty. And we, boasting of our brains, haven't intelligence enough to handle the simple job of crop distribution to those who need it.

NEVER

Sugar, which was the pinnacle of profiteering during the last boom, is being measured by the tariff makers,
champion loose-fitting tailors.
How much tariff should there be on sugar? A Congress committee asks the question. A regular mob swarms in Washington to answer. Sugar refineries are represented. So are sugar brokers. Also, beet and cane sugar growers.
"Everyone is being given a hearing except the consumer," comments a witness.
That's always the way. Consumer is a "nut" between the jaws of the nut-cracker.

OYSTERS

Tony Primiano opened 1278 oysters
in an hour, winning contest at Warren, R. I. He claims the world championship. As far as we're concerned, he can have it.
Anyone who has ever tried to open even one fresh oyster's powerful jaws will admit that Tony has speed and that his fingers must be powerful enough to pull a spike out of an oak plank.
The oyster contest, however, would make most of us yawn if we partici-

BRINGING UP FATHER

ated. What is it that makes people interested in so many different things?
And what sort of contest interests
you most? Probably it is closely allied to the thing that'd bring you greatest success.

STIMULANT

Cuts in freight rates have not increased the tonnage of grain and other farm products handled by the railroads, complains Lewis J. Spence, director of traffic on Southern Pacific lines.
Maybe not. But the freight rate reductions have helped check the falling-off in shipments. And consumers are benefitting.

FAR-SIGHTED

A year ago you read that the oceans were gutted with ships, too
many produced during the war.
New comes word that the world's shipyards launched 4,341,69 gross tons of vessels during 1921, or a third more than in 1913, a normal year.
Ship-building requires capital, which is cautious about backing the wrong horse during depression. Shipbuilders, by their steady activity reveal that clairvoyant capital sees tremendous business activity somewhere ahead.

LOSS

The bigger they are, the harder they fall. The largest mail order house's financial statement shows it lost $16,435,469 in 1921.
Its sales for the year were $178,- 014,581, compared with $254,585,059
the year before.
Falling prices are back of it all.
Lean years follow fat years. Small chance to survive unless a surplus is laid aside in good times.
Business is a roller-coaster.

BROKEN

Home brewers, bootleggers and their customers should be interested in Bishop Thomas Nicholson. He's the new president of the Anti-Saloon League of America.
Prohibition, says the bishop, is 75 per cent effective, on the average. In some sections, dry law enforcement is 99 per cent absolute.
Good showing! The dry laws probably are as curbing as any other laws.

No law is entirely effective. There's a law against stealing autos, but many are stolen—4000 in Chicago last month.
Laws curb. They never absolutely prevent.

FIGHT

Captain Poole reports that his ship
for an hour passed through a blood-red sea in which hundreds of whales were dead or dying.
Poole thinks there had been a battle between an army of swordfish and an army of whales for possession of
an army of whales for possession of smaller fish.
In the excitement, the small fish probably got away. Like a war between men—the original issue is soon forgotten in the fury of battle. An assassin started the World War but the assassination was hardly mentioned at the peace conference.

PEST

You get a book out of the library, and notice that some other reader
has improved on the author by underlining the printed text or penciling notes in the margin.
Occasionally these show intense interest and deep thought.
But librarians say most of the "improvements" are changes in punctuation. Some folks are so busy looking for other people's mistakes that they haven't any time for their own.

CRIME

Rum hounds are digging up police statistics to prove that there has been an increase of crime under prohibition.
They reason falsely.
The increase in crime has been due to absence of prohibition.
The dregs never contended that crime would decrease under a prohibition not thoroughly enforced.

LEARN A WORD
EVERY DAY

Today's word is DECRY.
It is pronounced—de-kry with accent on the last syllable.
It means—to blame, to censure, to condemn.
It comes from—Old French
"descrier," to cry out against.
It is used like this—"The whole world decried the action of the German emperor in plunging Europe into war."

CALORIES—HOW TO TELL HOW MANY YOU NEED

Common Sense Wars to Keep Well

The modern housewife has little time to make a thorough study of calories
in connection with food requirements, yet she must know how much food is required by members of her household. Ordinarily she can trust pretty much to appetite—unperverted appetites are very useful guides of rational eating.
The adult who always maintains a uniform normal weight has usually adjusted his food supply to his needs.
If a child makes healthful, steady gains in weight throughout the period of growth, we can usually depend upon it that the child is eating right.
But all adults do not maintain a uniform normal weight, nor do all children make healthful, steady gains in weight. Some adults are too thin; some too fat. Some children have too large appetites, some are too pampered.
For such cases it is necessary to have accurate measurements by scientific methods of the real fuel needs of the body to check on appetite or as a guide when appetite fails.
It is now understood that a man lying quietly in bed throughout the 24 hours of the day burns at least 12 calories for every pound of body weight, which means for the average man a daily total of from 1,600 to 1,- 800 calories.
If conditions permit, it is better to see that this energy is taken from food, rather than that the body be permitted to burn itself up. A general starving policy for the sick is as obscene as blood-letting.
The energy expenditures of men,
women and children have been closely studied through the use of a device called the respiration calorimeter, a chamber in which a person may remain for some time.
It measures accurately the actual energy expenditure. Hundreds of observations show that men under the same conditions of weight, age and occupation use practically the same amount of energy.
A definite amount of work calls for a definite amount of energy in the form of food.
The only reason why we are not forced to stop working when food is withheld is that we are able to carry stores of fat and a little carbohydrates as reserve fuel, and also to draw on our body protein if necessary.
Thus men have fasted 30 and 40 days, but the body becomes more and more impoverished and when the reserve supply is exhausted there must come fuel in the form of food or all work stops and death comes.

Berton Braleys
Daily Poem
OPTIMISM

We work like bees that loudly buzz
We laugh, we cry, we sing, we chatter,
But after all it really does
Not matter.

We make our pile or lose it all,
We hate our job, or maybe love it,
Our fame is great—or very small,
What of it?

Brief is the space we dwell upon.
This world of mingled joy and sorrow,
We're here today, of course, but gone
Tomorrow.

The world turns clear around each day.
You cannot make it pause, or hurry,
Neither can I. And, anyway,
Why worry?

If Fate has marked our destined trail (Maybe she has—what though we doubt it)
It does no good to weep and wail
About it!

Or if we truly have free will
To plan our plans and blow our bubbles,
Then it's bad sportsmanship to spill
Our troubles!

So each must bear what he can't mend,
Accept his woes with merry chaffing,
Smile pleasantly until the end
And exit—laughing!

A THOUGHT
FOR TODAY

Many prophets and kings have desired to see the things that ye see and have not seen them; and to hear the things that ye hear, and have not heard them.—Luke 10:24.

There is no victory possible without humility and magnanimity, and no magnanimity or humility possible without an ideal; and there is no one who has not heard the call in his own heart to put aside all evil habits, and to live a brave, simple, truthful life.—

THE DOUGHNUT'S SPEECH.

The doughnut, looking very solemn and important, made a bow and sat down.
There were more speeches at the party—Nancy and Nick,
sitting in the front row, were ever so much interested. Buskins said that he'd heard better poetry, but after all he no one ever mixed food with art and it wasn't to be expected. The next speech was made by a doughnut, which said this:
"Foolish little Jack a' Spandy,
Stuffed on forty kinds of candy,
He ate all day 'til late at night,
He had to groan at every bite,
Jack never mind his mother,
Ate one doughnut after 'nother,
Bought a big green sour pickle
At the grocers for a nickel.
Doctor came with bitter pills,
Jack a' Spandy had the chills,
Stomach ache and dizzy head,
Deed he had to stay in bed.
'stead of clothes he wears a plaster,
No food only oil of castor.
Some sad day he'll up and die,
'N' folks will wonder why."

WHOLE NATION CELEBRATES SCOUT BIRTHDAY

TWELVE YEARS OLD - FEB. 8

I am with the Scout Movement heart and soul. It is an organization teaching the spirit of service and honor which we must always have in our citizenship. I wish every boy in our America could have the advantage and the honor of being in the Boy Scout organization.

Warren G. Harding

Every Boy
a Scout—and Every Scout Trained for Citizenship

THE BOY SCOUT movement is twelve years old! Today, with governors and mayors personally taking the Scout Oath and Law, Rotary and Kiwanis, Lions and other men's clubs giving barbecues and dinners, scout sermons in churches, father and son get-togethers, troop rallies and public mass meetings, and many other stirring activities all set in motion by a radio message from the President of the United States, the Boy Scouts of America will celebrate its own arrival at the age of admission to Scouting as a Tenderfoot.

Twelve years ago an idea; today, a movement in which 84,000 men are voluntarily giving service, and 403,162 boys are earnestly applying themselves to a definite program of outdoor activities and studies as preparation for the duties of citizenship.

Twelve years ago a new idea. Today an established American institution recognized by the schools as an invaluable supplementary aid to education, by the churches as a most desirable ally in character-building, and by statesmen and leaders from coast to coast as the most influential factor today in training boys for good citizenship.

Twelve years ago an untried idea here. Today a system of boyhood organized for civic service, looked to by state and city governments to perform definite duties of a serious character in forest preservation, combating epidemics, gathering accurate data on civic conditions for use of authorities, and the dissemination of information.

Twelve years ago an idea. Today a thoroughly organized, expertly-led program of outdoor and indoor activities and studies that are the delight of boyhood, giving natural and wholesome expression to boy impulses and energies, making him one with Nature through hikes and camping, preparing him to face dangers and to meet emergencies, to save life and to care for the injured, developing his abilities to do things for himself and others, increasing his power and desire to serve, and making him ambitious to occupy a place of honor and usefulness in his community and in the nation as a good citizen.

Twelve years ago merely an idea. Today, an indispensable institution helping boys to know their duty to God and country, to keep themselves "physically strong, mentally awake and morally straight," and to be for all their boyhood days and to the end, trustworthy, loyal, helpful, friendly, courteous, kind, obedient, cheerful, thrifty, brave, clean and reverent.

This is the movement conducted by the Boy Scouts of America as seen by leaders of church and state, school and business. In the twelve years that have passed, over 2,000,000 boys have subscribed to the Scout Oath and Law. Upwards of a half-million men have received the benefit that comes to men who give their services as scoutmasters and in other leadership capacities to this movement. Its attraction to boys has steadily increased through these years, and today there are known to be hundreds of thousands of boys who wish to become scouts but must wait upon leadership.

In these twelve years the Boy Scouts of America have given to our country many things of permanent and inestimable value. As a birthday gift to the movement it asks the gift of service to the nation's boyhood, by men.

Little Tots Driven
Out Into Cold When
Fire Burned Refuge

Aurora, Ill., Feb. 15.—At 2 o'clock this morning residents of the exclusive Downer Place were roused from their beds by tiny figures in pajamas and night gowns who pounded on the doors. The little folks were from a nearby juvenile protective association home and had been driven out in the cold by a fire which almost completely destroyed their refuge. The youngsters, some of them mere babies, were taken into a dozen homes and put into beds. Hot water bottles were placed at their feet and warm drinks given them. The fire was discovered by the catron of the home, Mrs. Minnie Godard, when she was aroused by crying children who had been partly smothered by smoke. Some of the older children aided the rescue of the younger ones.

The Rexall Store

"It costs no more to buy a Kelly"

Ever since its inception (over a quarter of a century ago) the aim of the Kelly-Springfield Tire Co. has been to build the best tires possible regardless of price. That is still their aim. Kellys are better now than ever before yet they cost no more than other tires that have always sold for less than Kellys because economies effected by quantity production have made possible a drastic reduction in prices.

ERSKINE DALE PIONEER

by JOHN FOX Jr

© 1922 BY CHARLES SCRIBNER'S SONS

BEGIN HERE TODAY

WHITE ARROW, a boy of fifteen, escapes from the Shawnee Indians, by whom he has been reared, and takes refuge in a settler's stockade in the "dark and bloody" ground of Pre-Revolutionary Kentucky. He states that he was captured in infancy and that his mother, taken prisoner with him, was killed.

The Indians attack the fort and a Virginian, mortally wounded, recognizes White Arrow as his son. White Arrow's real name is Erskine Dale. DAVE YANDELL, a pioneer, acts as guardian and sends Erskine to Red Oakes, the great Dale plantation on the River James. Erskine is kindly received by his father's younger brother, COLONEL DALE, and by his cousins, BARBARA and HARRY.

GO ON WITH THE STORY

"I wish you'd come along," Barbara laughed. "I wouldn't like to lose my hair." "I'll watch out for that," said the boy with such confident gravity that Barbara turned to look at him. "I believe you would," she murmured.

Everybody had gathered for the Sunday dinner when they swung around the great trees and up to the back porch. Just as they were starting in the Kentucky boy gave a cry and darted down the path. A towering figure in coonskin cap and hunter's garb was halted at the sundial and looking toward them.

They saw the tall stranger stare wonderingly at the boy and throw back his head and laugh. Then the two came on together. The boy was still flushed but the hunter's face was grave. "This is Dave," said the boy simply.

"Dave Yandell," added the stranger, smiling and taking off his cap. "I've been at Williamsburg to register some lands and I thought I'd come and see how this young man is getting along."

Colonel Dale went quickly to meet him with outstretched hands. That night the subject of Hugh and Harry going back home with the two Kentuckians was broached to Colonel Dale, and to the wondering delight of the two boys both fathers seemed to consider it favorably.

The boy piled Dave with questions about the people in the wilderness and passed to sleep. Dave lay awake a long time thinking that war was sure to come. They were Americans now, said Colonel Dale—not Virginians, just as nearly a century later the same people were to say. "We are not Americans now—we are Virginians."

It was a merry cavalcade that swung around the great oaks that spring morning in 1774. Two coaches with outriders and postillions led the way—the elder ladies in the first coach, and the second blossoming with flower-like faces and starred with dancing eyes. Booted and spurred, the gentlemen rode behind, and under them rolled the baggage wagons drawn by mules in jingling harness. Harry on a chestnut sorrel and the young Kentuckian on a high-stepping gray followed the second coach.

Such as Freely champed the length of the column. Colonel Dale and Dave brought up the rear.

The cavalcade halted before a building with a leaden bust of Sir Walter Raleigh over the main doorway, the old Raleigh Tavern, in the Apollo Room of which Mr. Jefferson had rapturously danced with his Belinda. Both coaches were quickly surrounded by bowing gentlemen, young gallants, and frolicsome students. Dave, the young Kentuckian, and Harry would be put up at the tavern, and, for his own reasons, Hugh elected to stay with them.

Inside the tavern Hugh was soon surrounded by fellow students. He pressed Dave and the boy to drink with them, but Dave laughingly declined and took the lad up their room. Below they could hear Hugh's movement going on, and when Hugh propose a general congress of the colonies.

And that ball came to pass. Haughty hosts received their haughty guest with the finest and gravest courtesy, bent low over my lady's hand, danced with her daughters, and wrung from my lord's reluctant lips the one grudging word of comment:

"Gentlemen!"

The two backwoodsmen were dazzled by the brilliance of it all, for the boy had stood with Barbara, who had been allowed to look on for a while.

IT WAS A MERRY CAVALCADE THAT SWUNG AROUND THE GREAT OAKS.

Before Barbara was sent home Hugh and Dane Grey came in with an exaggeration of dignity and politeness that fooled few others than themselves. Hugh, catching Barbara's sad and reproachful glance, did not dare go near her, but Dane made straight for her side when she entered the room—and bowed with great attention. To the boy he paid no attention whatever, and the latter, fired with indignation and hate, turned hastily away. The half-overlooking a nd wholly contemptuous glance that Grey had shot over his head had stunk him like a knife cut, so like an actual (knife indeed that without knowing it his right hand was then fumbling at his belt. Erskine left and went back to the tavern and up to his room. Then with his knife in his belt he went down again and waited on the porch. Already guests were coming back from the party and it was not long before he saw Hugh and Dane Grey half-stumbling up the steps. Erskine rose. Grey confronted the lad dully for a moment and then straightened.

"Here's a muzzler one wants to fight," he said thickly. "My young friend, I will oblige you anywhere with anything, at any time—except tonight. You must regard what as great honor, for I am not accustomed to fight with savages."

And he waved the boy away with such an insolent gesture that the lad, knowing no other desire with an enemy than to kill in any way possible, snatched his knife from his belt. He heard a cry of surprise and horror from Hugh and a huge hand caught his upraised wrist.

"Put it back!" said Dave sternly. The dazed boy obeyed and Dave led him upstairs.

VIII

Next morning, when the party started back to Red Oakes, Erskine felt a different in the atmosphere that made him uneasy. Barbara alone seemed unchanged, and he was quick to guess that she had not been told of the incident.

Dave had made no explanation or excuse for his young friend, but he soon made up his mind that it would be wise to offer the best extenuation. That the lad knew no better, had not yet had the chance to learn, and on the rage of impulse had acted just as he would have done among the Indians, whose code alone he knew.

The matter came to a head shortly after their arrival. The boy was standing behind the box hedge near the steps and Barbara had just appeared in the doorway.

"Well, what was the trouble?" Colonel Dale asked. "He tried to stab Grey unarmed and without warning," said Hugh shortly.

At the moment, the boy caught sight of Barbara. Her eyes, filled with scorn, met his in one long, sad, withering look, and she turned noiselessly back into the house.

He knew at last what he had done. Nothing was said to him when he came to the house and that night he scarcely opened his lips. In silence he went to bed and next morning he was gone.

The mystery was explained when

Barbara told how the boy, too, must have overheard Hugh.

"He's hurt," said Dave, "and he's gone home."

"Why, he'll starve." "He could get there on roots and herbs and wild honey, but he'll have fresh meat every day. Still, I'll have to try to overtake him."

He went to get ready for the journey. Ten minutes later Hugh and Harry rushed joyously to his room.

"We're going with you!" they cried, and Dave was greatly pleased. An hour later all were ready, and at the last moment Firefly was led in, saddled and bridled, and with a lead-halter around his neck.

"Harry," said Colonel Dale, "carry your cousin in his arms, and give him Firefly on condition that he ride him back some day. Tell him, this home is his"—the speaker halted, but went on gravely and firmly—"when-ever he pleases."

"And give him my love," said Barbara, holding back her tears.

At that hour the boy far over in the wilderness ahead of them had cooked a squirrel that he had shot for his breakfast and was gnawing it to the bones. Soon he rose and at a trot speed on toward his home beyond the Cumberland. And with him, etched with acid on the steel of his brain, sped two images—Barbara's face as he last saw it and the face of young Dane Grey.

LEE CENTER SCHOOL OFFICIALS PLEASED: GETS RECOGNITION

State Gives Approval to Course, Teachers and Equipment.

Lee Center.—Mr. and Mrs. Roy High, of Lewiston, Montana, are visiting the latter's sister, Mrs. Charles Henschel, Mrs. High was formerly Jennie Reed.

Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Aschenbrenner and daughter, Marian, spent Sunday in Rockford with Mr. and Mrs. Harry Oimstead.

A. H. Hill, T. A. Fryman and Henry McManis are all candidates for the office of road commissioner. Mr. Hill is the present commissioner, as he was appointed by the town board to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Hiel Brunson. Candidates for other town offices are Roy Gooch for supervisor, C. L. Rockwood for town clerk, and John Vivian for school trustee. All with no opposition as yet.

An excellent program was given in the church last Sunday night when

Mrs. C. M. Burton, a colored lady and wife of the pastor of the Lincoln Memorial Church of Chicago, gave a talk on the work of the American Missionary Association in the schools for the colored people in the south. Inasmuch as she and her husband, as well as her father and mother, were all educated in these schools, her information was both interesting and authentic. She and her cunning little daughter each sang a sweet solo. Other music was furnished by a mixed quartette, composed of Mrs. Russell Shaw, Miss Dora Miller and Messrs. Walter Wellman and Glenn Biessecker, who sang negro melodies and Miss Jennie M. Oakes.

Harry Gale went to Rockford last week and was examined by a government doctor who states that his lungs are badly affected.

Reuben Bogard is in the Red Cross Hospital, Chicago, taking treatment for heart trouble.

Miss Alia Jones was hostess at a valentine party Tuesday night and entertained over fifty of her young friends, including the high school and the teachers, Supt. H. P. Hibbush, Prof. Galen T. Lehman and Miss Dorothy Durkes. The house was festooned with strings of hearts, which were also used for decorations in various other ways. Dancing cards and games of different kinds entertained the guests, and delicious refreshments of sandwiches, pickles, candy, ice cream and fancy cakes were served. An out-of-town guest was Miss Josephine Berry of Amboy.

The Lee Center High school can now hold up its head proudly with its schools as it has been fully recognized by the state and its equipment is the equal if not the superior of any other school of its size.

To commemorate their red letter days in its history appropriate exercises were held in the grades school last Friday afternoon and in the evening the following program was given to its residents of the district:

Song—"America—Audience.
Reading—Mrs. W. S. Frost.
Vocal Solo—Walter Wellman.
Address—Prof. Galen Lehman.
Piano Solo—Mrs. C. A. Ulman.
Reading—Mrs. Albert Lyman.
Address—County Supt. L. W. Miller.

Vocal Solo—Miss Jennie Oakes.
Impromptu Speeches.
Music—Male Quartette—Rev. A. C. Dunton, John Vivian, A. M. Biessecker, Glenn Biessecker.

A cafeteria lunch was afterward served in the grades room. Much credit is due our popular superintendent, Prof. H. P. Hibbush for his untiring energy and zeal in placing the school on the recognized list.

Rev. A. L. Dunton will give a history of his life in the church next Sunday night at 8 o'clock in the hope that the experiences which befell him may prove a help to other travelers on life's highway. Appropriate music will be given.

John Anderson, Jr., who held his closing out sale last week, has purchased the David Powell property of

Tackled Wrong Man to "Fix" Prosecutor

Chicago, Feb. 15.—The Rev. John H. Williamson today formally took over his new position of law enforcement commissioner, a post to which he was appointed a few days ago by Mayor William Hale Thompson. The commissioner had hardly hung up his hat and coat in his city hall office when he rushed an excited man.

"Say, are you a city official?" he asked after a look around.

"Yes, I am," replied Mr. Williamson.

"Well, now, listen," the visitor said, approaching in a confidential manner. "I'm one of the boss' ward workers and I got pinched for speeding. Fix it up for me, will you?"

"My dear sir, you may be in the right church, but you certainly are in the wrong pew," the commissioner replied. "In this office the only fixing we do is to fix it so the law won't be violated."

And the would-be "fixer" hurried away.

DO YOU REMEMBER?

About a year ago you saw an ad similar to this one. Out of twenty-one homes, advertised, nineteen were sold within two weeks.

We are again offering what we think are good buys. Remember it costs you nothing to look them over. These homes must be seen to be sold. Here are a few questions and their answers:

Is it advisable to buy property now? Four reasons are:

- (1) The price is as low as it ever will be.
- (2) You will get the best buying now, later they will be picked over.
- (3) You cannot duplicate the homes listed below, anywhere near these values.
- (4) Are you renting? Stop and think about the same payment you are now paying rent, and a small payment down will buy your own home.

1. Eight-room house, modern. Several fruit trees. Garage. Lot 75x150. Well located on improved street. Price $4500. Terms $300 first payment. Balance per month. South side.

2. Four-rooms and bath. Modern except furnace. Extra lot. Basement under entire house and cemented. Decent offer will buy it. Located on South side.

3. Seven room house, gas, electric lights, hard and soft water. Lot 55x150. Newly painted and in good condition. Located four blocks from city. A real buy at $2600. Terms $500 or more, balance per month. South side.

4. Eight or nine-room house, steam heat, modern, in good condition. Located two blocks from city, a fine place to keep roomers. Price $5500. Prefer one-half down. South side.

5. Seven-room house and sleeping porch. All modern, good sized lot, well located. Improved street. A real buy at $3500. Reasonable terms. South side.

6. Six room house. Lot 50 x 150. Electric lights and gas. Hard and soft water. Garage. Price $3000. Well located on South side. Terms if desired. Immediate attention.

7. Six room cottage, modern except bath and furnace. Sewer connections in house. Corner lot 50x150. Price $2400. Terms will be given. South side.

8. Five-room cottage, modern, extra large lot. Plenty of fruit. Garage. Located South side. Price $2800.

9. Six-room house. Strictly modern. Garage. Good sized lot on Lincoln Highway. Price $3800. North side.

Bryan Willing to Be Florida Senator

Miami, Fla., Feb. 15.—William Jennings Bryan responding to many inquiries as to whether he would be a candidate for the democratic nomination for United States senator from Florida today, issued a statement in which he said:

"If the democrats of Florida felt that as a senator I could render a service to the state and to the party in the nation sufficient to justify them in calling upon me to represent them at Washington, I would consider the matter from the standpoint of duty and in connection with other claims upon me, but I have no thought of entering into a contest for the office."

FARM SYSTEM WRONG SAYS EX-GOVERNOR LOWDEN IN ADDRESS

Says Farmer Cannot Continue to Sell Products at Loss.

If the farmer is to continue to feed mankind, he must be paid for his services and we must provide warehouses for the surplus in bountiful years, Frank O. Lowden, former Governor of Illinois, told the Nebraska Dairymen's association in convention recently.

"The farmer believes in the value of what he produces and knows that it is indispensable to the world," he said. "When he sees that the total value of an unusually large crop is less in the markets of the world than the value of a small crop, he knows that something is wrong in our methods of distribution. He does not need to be familiar with higher mathematics to feel sure that 12,000,000 bales of cotton ought to be worth more than 6,000,000 bales; for each of the 12,000,000 will be genuinely serviceable sooner or later in the clothing world."

"He has seen much improved financial conditions come to one great section of the country because of an unusually short crop of that staple. He can't persuade himself that the boll weevil is a beneficent agent of mankind, and yet he is compelled to admit that the cotton states are indebted to that little insect for their improved financial condition."

"We know that no commodity will be long produced below the cost of production, and therefore it ought not to be necessary to market any farm commodity below such cost; for if that commodity can be stored and held the world will have to pay the cost some day."

"These problems have been met and solved, in a large measure, in Holland and Denmark among the fruit growers of California, by the organization of farmers' co-operative societies. These societies do not attempt to arbitrarily fix prices. They study the probable demand and attempt to adjust production to meet the demand. "Instead of throwing the entire season's crop upon the market within a few short weeks, they provide for orderly marketing of their products. The tendency of this is to stabilize the market. And stabilizing the market of any product is in the end best for the consumer and the producer alike. It is never a good thing for anyone when any useful commodity is sold for less than the cost, for under the inexorable laws of economics, curtailed production will follow until prices abnormally high are the result. Any commodity that is produced profitably year after year will in a long series of years be produced more cheaply than where there are violent fluctuations.

"When the price of wheat on Wednesday of one week is 10 cents more a bushel than it was on the Tuesday of the week before, this law of supply and demand may mean the difference between a profit or loss upon a whole year's work of the farmer."

"While in every other industry we are abreast of the most advanced nations—in commerce, in manufacturing, in banking and merchandising—there is not a nation in the world that can not teach America something about farming. This has been because of the great abundance of fertile lands in this country, so that we could exhaust one field and then move on west and take up virgin soil."

"If our farm is worn out it is our own fault, and if we do not restore it within a reasonable time it is not only our fault but it is an act of positive treachery to the generations that shall come after us."

Wills His Body to Wisconsin 'Varsity

Madison Wis., Feb. 15.—"Railroad Jack," memory expert and curbstone philosopher, who spent the last year lecturing from street corners to students here, last night willed his body to the University of Wisconsin to be used, when he dies, "for scientific purposes."

"Jack," whose legal name is Harry D. Cooper of Oshkosh said in his will that "while a student at Rush Medical College during the years 1886 and 1887 and I learned the value of good subjects' for anatomical research work, and I determined to do my part not only in life but in death, so to speak, to enhance the value of surgical work."

"He also willed his tractor and the 'galvanized iron trailer' which he uses as a pleasure car and home, to the University. He said the tractor represented a total investment of $700.

BYERS IS BUSY WITH WORK AND HIS CAMPAIGN

Friends Hope for Re-election of Efficient Legislator.

Representative John H. Byers of this city, between his newspaper work and his campaign for re-nomination at the April primaries, is kept very busy. Mr. Byers has made several trips through the district, but of course, has not been able to visit all towns and to see all of his friends. The many friends of Mr. Byers believe that he has made a splendid record for a new member; they believe that one good term deserves another. During the past two months Representative Byers has done considerable speaking and he has dates ahead for several weeks. He has appeared before Commercial clubs, Woman's clubs, church clubs and church organizations and he has delivered four of five addresses at the Father and Son banquets conducted by the County Y. M. C. A. Next Sunday evening Representative Byers will deliver an address on "Abraham Lincoln" at the Lincoln theatre in Sterling, under the auspices of the Presbyterian church, where church services are now being held since the church edifice was destroyed by fire.

Mr. Byers' friends believe that he is well qualified by experience to fill the position he seeks. His ten years as private secretary to Congressman John C. McKenzie, is certainly valuable to a legislator. He was assistant secretary of the State Senate in the 46th General Assembly, and his work in the 47th General Assembly as a House member is valuable—if a man is aggressive, a second term affords better opportunities for success as a legislator, and for work in which the people of his district are interested.

During the late war Mr. Byers gave his time in speaking for the people whenever he was called. Two of his sons are members of the American Legion.

Representative Byers is deeply interested in legislative work, giving it considerable study. He is ever ready to aid anyone who seeks information along legislative lines, pensions, etc.

Dixon Men Asked to Attend Jews' Meet in Chicago

Adolph Eschler and Phil N. Marks of Dixon, are among more than 40 representative Jews from all section of Illinois, who have been invited to a conference to be held tonight in Chicago at the home of Julius Rosenwald, at which time final impetus is expected to be given to the drive to raise $250,000 downstate toward the $14,000,000 national fund being collected for the relief of war sufferers in Eastern and Central Europe. The City of Chicago, which completed its drive before the first of the year, raised $1,850,000, although its original goal had been fixed at but $1,000,000.

The success of the Chicago campaign was due largely to the inspiration afforded by Mr. Rosenwald, who at the outset pledged himself to give $1 for every $7 otherwise contribute in the city. His total gift was thus over $230,000.

ELKS ARE TODAY 54 YEARS OLD AS GREAT FRATERNAL SOCIETY

neath a great bronze granite boulder bearing a bronze plate with the inscription:

"Charles Algernon Sidney Vivian, Founder of the Order of Elks. Died March 20, 1880. Aged 34 years. A lover of his kind, who founded a great order, and in so doing wrought much good."

Vivian, who was the presiding "Jolly Cork" at the momentous meeting in 1868 when the fourteen men voted to organize under the name of "Elks," died in Leadville, Colo., after a life of theatrical vicissitudes that ranged from touring in affluence at the head of his own company, to being stranded penniless in Denver. There in Leadville his body rested, his grave marked only by a weather-stained pine board on which an inscription was scratched with some sharp instrument, until on April 28, 1889, Boston Lodge No. 10, B. P. O. Elks, exhumed the body, took it to Boston, and buried it there with splendid ceremony.

Only in Elksdom's archives and the memories of the few surviving "old timers" is the history of the Jolly Corks held intact. And only one charter member of Elksdom still survives. He is "Joe" Norcross of New York.

The "Jolly Corks," actor folk all met in those days of the '60s, in cafes and barrooms of New York's theatrical district. The "cork trick" was their initiation ceremony. A group of Corks would bring in a candidate, who was assessed fifty cents. This was taken by Charles Vivian, and entered in a pocket memorandum book. Each "Jolly Cork" produced a champagne cork from his pocket. The bar-keeper supplied the candidate with a new cork. The men lined up in front of the now-extinct

BETTER THAN CALOMEL

Thousands Have Discovered Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are a Harmless Substitute

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets—the substitute for calomel—are a mild but sure laxative, and their effect on the liver is almost instantaneous. These little olive-colored tablets are the result of Dr. Edwards' determination not to treat liver and bowel complaints with calomel. The pleasant little tablets do the good that calomel does, but have no bad after effects. They don't injure the teeth like strong liquids or calomel. They take hold of the trouble and quickly correct it. Why cure the liver at the expense of the teeth? Calomel sometimes plays havoc with the gums. So do strong liquids. It is best not to take calomel. Let Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets take its place.

Headaches, "dullness" and that lazy feeling come from constipation and a disordered liver. Take Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets when you feel "lousy" and "heavy." They "clear" clouded brain and "perk up" the spirits. 15c and 30c.

MARRIED—RETAINS MAIDEN NAME

The marriage of Miss Elsie Hill, chairman of the executive committee of the National Woman's Party only recently became known. That may have been because she still retains her

American bar. Each man placed his cork in front of him on the bar. To the candidate it was explained that at the signal "Three!" of the "One—two—three!" called by the ruling Cork, the last man to lift his cork from the bar was "stuck for the drinks."

The signal would be called. The Jolly Corks, all initiates, would simply cup their hands over their corks and leave the corks on the bar. The candidate, with a swift swoop, always would be the first man to lift his cork. He would also be the last man to lift his cork. For he would be the only man to lift his cork. He bought the drinks.

One other law the Corks obeyed. Any Jolly Cork, meeting another Jolly Cork, was at liberty to challenge his brother by producing his own cork from his pocket. If the challenged man could not also produce a cork, he must pay for the drinks. The champagne cork became the insignia of the order.

Stuart Robson, noted American actor of that period, was a Jolly Cork and the target of a deep-laid plot. It was at Robson's wedding. As the actor entered the church, he found the aisle solidly lined with a double rank of Jolly Corks. At the altar awaited the minister. The organ was playing the wedding march. As Robson started down the aisle, with the future Mrs. Robson on his arm, every Jolly Cork, with the precision of an army officer drawing sword and saluting sandwiches. Their festivities cost them their home. Irrate at their noise, "Mother" Geisman drove them out.

Then they "hired a hall" and formed their fraternal order. It was nearly named the "Buffaloes," after the "Royal Antediluvian Order of Buffaloes" of England, to which Vivian, the ruling Cork, belonged. The vote stood seven to seven, deadlocked on "Buffaloes" and "Elks."

Only a handful recall the name of W. L. Bowron of New York, today. Yet it is to him that the "Elks" owe their name. On the second ballot he switched his vote from "Buffalo" to "Elk." Vivian, in the chair, though an ardent advocate of "Buffaloes," ratified the majority of one, and the Benevolent and Protective Order of Elks was born.

One other circumstance, little known, paved the way for the name of "Elks." The committee charged with selecting a name was to meet at Broadway and Ann Street, New York. Some were tardy. Others, weary of waiting, strolled into Barnum's Museum, on that corner, and wandered through the famous animal collection.

"Bears" was suggested, but discarded as animals of few inviting traits, coarse, brutal and morose. "Beavers" were brought up as example of industry, but cast aside as too destructive. "Foxes," suggested, were voted down as too cunning and crafty. A large moose-head attracted attention, but was at last turned down. Then an Elks' head, with graceful, spreading antlers, met with general approval and divided honors with "Buffaloes," which Vivian had advocated strongly, but which half the committee opposed because they did not wish to copy the name of an existing order.

From this trip to Barnum's Museum the committee went to the meeting where the name of "Elks" was chosen.

Since then the Order has grown by giant strides. It embraces American citizens from the humblest, to Warren G. Harding, President of the United States, and life-member of Marion (Ohio) Lodge No. 32, B. P. O. Elks.

In 1922, Elksdom, with gifts to char-

BULGARIA TO FORCE WOMEN TO DO LABOR

Law to Compel All
Women to Work
Is All Ready.

By Associated Press Leased Wire
Sofia, Feb. 16.—Compulsory work for women is to be imposed by the Bulgarian peasant government. The peasant women who do manual labor partisans of the law say, will take pleasure in "seeing those ladies in silk stockings" rustle about a bit.

Premier Stamboulsky, justifying the new law in a recent speech said:

"A peasant woman works in the country, ploughing the ground, often doing more than the husband. She spins the wool and weaves the cloth for the family's clothes. What does the town lady do. She walks and chats and does not give birth to children. We must, at least, compel her to labor for the state."

The law is to be applied first in the

KIDNEY AND BLADDER TROUBLES HAVE TO GO

Dragged Up Kidney Deposits Are Dissolved and the Toxins (Poisons) Completely Driven Out. Druggists Told to Guarantee it in Every Instance.

"Your very life," says Dr. Carey, depends upon the perfect functioning and health of your kidneys so whatever you do don't neglect them."

Dr. Carey's famous prescription No.
77 known as Marshroot is not recommended for everything, but we cannot too strongly urge its use if you suffer from annoying bladder troubles, frequent passing of water night and day, with smarting or irritation, brick dust sediment or highly colored urine,
floating irritability with loss of flesh,
backache, rheumatism or any other
tendency to Bright's Disease, Diabetes, Gravel, for kidney disease in its worst form may be stealing upon you.

Don't wait until tomorrow to begin the use of this wonderful prescription now obtainable in both liquid and tablet form if you have any of the above symptoms. Kidney and Bladder troubles don't wear away. They will grow upon you slowly, stealthily and with unfailing certainty.

Never mind the failures of the past
if you even suspect that you are subject to Kidney Disease, don't lose a single day for the Public Drug & Book Co., and every good druggist has been authorized to return the purchase money on the first two bottles to all who state they have received no benefit.—Adv.

LET BATTER PILFER FIRST BASE; SPEED UP GAME, SUGGESTED

Kansas City Attorney Aroused Discussion By His Proposal.

Chicago, Feb. 15.—Speeding up baseball by permitting a batter to steal first base is a suggestion that has aroused Judge Kenesaw Mountain Landis, baseball commissioner, guessing today.

The commissioner received a letter from Newton C. Gillman, a Kansas City, Missouri, attorney, in which he suggests that the theft privilege of a batter would offset the scientific pitcher often makes an inning a tame affair with the batsmen being mowed down one, two, three.

"The better steal first base," wrote the Missouri lawyer, "and this is a pitcher over a batter will be equalized."

Mr. Gillman says that the average fan wants to see "men running the bases," and a change in the rules that will permit a fleet-footed batter to pilfer his initial sack, he thinks, is the very thing needed to speed up the game.

Judge Landis and local baseball men are puzzled as to just how a batter would be able to steal first base with the pitcher having his eyes constantly on him. Mr. Gillman is clear in his statement that fans want to see "men running bases," but his letter offered no definite suggestion as to how base running can be accelerated. Simply giving a batter permission to steal first, Judge Landis believes, will not serve to speed up the game.

Explains His Plan

Kansas City, Mo., Feb. 15.—In a statement to the Associated Press today Mr. Gillman explained his suggestion to Judge Landis of permitting the batter to attempt a steal of the first sack. According to Mr. Gillman rules should be made which would entitle the batter to make an effort to steal first base of a "passed ball" or if the "outs" were running a man down between the bases. Mr. Gillman also contended that if the fielders in some manner "throw the ball away" the batter should be entitled to the attempted steal.

Three Sport Events at Iowa U. Saturday

Iowa City, Ia., Feb. 16.—(By the Associated Press)—Three big sporting events will be held at the University of Iowa here this week end. In addition coaches and athletic managers from about twenty colleges and universities of Iowa will be here for informal conferences. The dual wrestling meet between Iowa and Purdue at the new university armory tomorrow night will be the first of the events for the week end. Coach Mike Howard has a strong mat aggregation and Iowa supporters are predicting that the Hawkeye wrestlers will down the invaders.

Phonograph Music As An Anaesthetic

Chicago, Feb. 16.—A boy 13 years old underwent a serious operation while listening to a phonograph playing "Live Stable Blues" here yesterday. Only a local anaesthetic was used. The boy has had other operations, the physicians said, and hated anaesthetics so music was tried to keep his mind occupied. It was highly successful, the physicians said.

SEARCHLIGHTS USED IN STRIKE BOTHER PEOPLE

So They Beg Courts to Stop Mills Using Them.

By Associated Press Leased Wire
Steubenville, O., Feb. 16.—Two injunction suits, seeking to restrain the Wheeling Steel Corporation from using searchlights at its Yorkville, Ohio, plant have been entered in the Jefferson county common pleas court by 72 property owners of Yorkville and Tiltonville.

The plant was reopened on an open shop basis February 7. Searchlights were mounted on water tanks and other elevations within the mill and have been used to sweep all roads in the vicinity.

On February 8, a fight occurred at the mill gate, one man, a former roller in the plant, being killed. A mill guard and a deputy sheriff were arrested in connection with the shooting, and officials of the Amalgamated Association of Iron, Steel and Tin Plate Workers protested to state authorities against the use of "armed guards" by the corporation. The controversy at the plant involved recognition of the union.

The petitioners for injunctions charge that the use of the searchlights is a violation of property rights in Yorkville and Tiltonville; that residents are blinded by the rays and domestic affairs are subjected to public gaze because the lights penetrate blinds; and that the petitioners are deprived of their sleep because of the frequency with which the lights are directed into their homes.

Coroner's Inquest Finds Man's Alive

Montreal, Feb. 16.—Jeremie Belliveau enjoys the distinction of having been the central figure at his own inquest.

Six months ago a body found in the Lachine Canal was identified as that of Belliveau, who had been missing from his home. A coroner's jury found a verdict of accidental death, and in time Madame Belliveau made plans to remarry. Then Belliveau made a rearrangement of plans necessary by coming back.

The coroner was called on once more, this time to state what was to be done about the living. Belliveau explained that he had been unavoidably detained in jail for six months.

YOU Can Bring Back Prosperity to America

This Appeal is Not a Drive for Contributions

It is a common-sense, practical suggestion that YOU---without expense, without self-denial, with even even the slightest trouble---can follow and, in doing so, you will be truly helping to restore to us the full measure of prosperity.

So Little is Needed

If only one-half of the 120,000,000 people in the United States consumed as little as  $\frac{1}{2}$  lb. more of corn every day we would create a market for

535,714 bu. more of corn each day

16,071,420 bu. more of corn each month

64,285,680 bu. more of corn from Feb. 1 to June 1

and just as surely as the sun rises tomorrow the price would be restored by this increased demand to a fair value and the farmer would receive a reasonable return for his work.

\* Even if the present price of corn were trebled, your  $\frac{1}{2}$  lb. per day would cost you less than 3 cents a day.

Delicious Dishes Made from Corn Real Home-Cooking Recipes

CORN BREAD (3 portions)

$\frac{1}{2}$  cup cornmeal, 2 cups flour, 3 tablespoons sugar, 2 teaspoons baking powder,  $\frac{1}{2}$  teaspoon salt, 1 egg yolk, 2 cups milk, 1 tablespoon melted butter.

CORN MEAL MUFFINS

1 cup scalded milk,  $\frac{1}{2}$  cup sugar,  $\frac{1}{2}$  teaspoon salt, 1-3 yeast cake,  $\frac{1}{4}$  cup tepid water,  $\frac{1}{2}$  cups flour. When light add  $\frac{1}{2}$  cup melted butter and 1 cup of fine corn meal. Fill gem pans  $\frac{1}{2}$  full. Put in slow oven with oven door open until double in bulk. Bake, increasing heat, 20 or 30 minutes.

CORN CAKES

1 pint corn meal, 1 butter ball, salt to taste. Pour over this enough scalding water to make a thin batter. Beat in yolks of 4 eggs, one at a time, then  $\frac{1}{2}$  teaspoons baking powder, then the whites of 4 eggs beaten stiff and fold in. Bake on a hot greased griddle.

CORNMEAL BISCUITS

Sift  $\frac{1}{2}$  cups white flour,  $\frac{3}{4}$  cups white corn meal,  $\frac{1}{2}$  teaspoon salt, 4 teaspoons baking powder; add 1 beaten egg to a scant  $\frac{1}{2}$  cup milk and add to flour and make a soft dough. Roll  $\frac{1}{4}$  inch thick, cut in rounds, butter half, turn over, pinch round edge and bake.

CORN GRIDDLE CAKES

2 cups flour,  $\frac{1}{2}$  cup corn meal,  $\frac{1}{2}$  teaspoons baking powder,  $\frac{1}{2}$  teaspoon salt, 1-3 cup sugar,  $\frac{1}{2}$  cups boiling milk,  $\frac{1}{4}$  cups milk, 1 egg, 2 tablespoons melted butter. Add meal to boiling water and boil 5 minutes, add remaining dry ingredients mixed and sifted, then the egg well beaten, and butter. Cook same as other griddlecakes.

HOMINY MUSH

$\frac{3}{4}$  tablespoons fine hominy, 1 cup boiling water,  $\frac{1}{4}$  teaspoon salt.

FOR SYRUP--USE CORN SYRUP.

Low in price, high in food value, easy to prepare, tempting to the palate, and when you serve them you are positively creating a demand for corn which will restore its price to a fair value---and that will make America prosperous.

Eat Corn, Reduce
Your Living Expenses,
Gratify Yourself
and Help America!

CORN GEMS (6 gems)

$\frac{1}{2}$  cup corn meal, 3 tablespoons sugar,  $\frac{1}{2}$  cup white flour, 2 teaspoons baking powder,  $\frac{1}{4}$  teaspoon salt, 1 egg,  $\frac{1}{2}$  cup milk, 1 tablespoon melted butter.

MUSH

Indian mush is best made in the following manner: Put fresh water in a kettle over the fire to boil, and put in some salt; when the water boils, stir in corn meal until thick enough for use. Allow meal to cook well and as long as possible while thin. For fried mush, pour into an earthen dish and set away to cool. Cut in slices, dip each piece in beaten eggs and fry on a hot griddle.

LYE HOMINY CREAMED

Take one can lye hominy, wash and soak about 3 hours. Put in double boiler, add cream or milk, butter and salt, paprika. Let steam for an hour or two.

HOMINY GRITS

Take a cup of hominy grits, put in salt water in double boiler, add more water if necessary while cooking. When thoroughly cooked, add butter. Serve with cream, or pour in dish to cool. Slice and fry.

KENTUCKY CORN PONES

1 quart corn meal, scald with boiling water, then mix with cold water and 2 tablespoons salt into a thick batter. Mold with hand into flat ponies size of hand. Lay in baking pans and bake in oven until brown.

HOE CAKES

4 cups white corn meal, 1 teaspoon salt, boiling water. Mix salt and meal, add boiling water to make a stiff batter. Moisten hands in cold water. Take a tablespoon of batter in hands and press into a thin round cake. Bake slowly on a hot griddle.

And What You Do Will Actually Save You Money, Gratify You, and Make You Healthy!

Just See That One Food Produced From Corn is On Your Table at Least ONCE Each Day.

Eat delicious food, cheap in price but rich in food value, and create a demand for America's great food staple which will bring its price to a fair value.

America CAN'T be wholly prosperous, labor will NOT be fully employed, just so long as Corn is marketed at a price which represents an actual loss to the farmer---and that is just what the present price of corn means.

40% of the total population of the United States gain their living from the farm.

Corn represents 55% of the total value of our grain products' and is grown in every state in the Union.

To produce that much of our Country's raw food material at a heavy loss to the producer cuts deeply into the buying power of the whole nation.

If that many buyers cannot buy, the merchant will not order goods from the manufacturer; the manufacturer cannot hire labor; the working man suffers for the lack of the necessities of life.

If you help create a demand for corn, the farmer can pay his debts and buy merchandise; the merchant can buy more goods; the manufacturer can put more men to work at good wages; and they in turn have money for food and clothes and the comforts of life, and--

The Following Letter was Received from the Secretary of Agriculture

Washington, D. C., January 17, 1922.

Gentlemen: Recently I had the opportunity to talk quite fully with Mr. Chittenden concerning your proposed appeal through newspaper advertisements for the increased use of corn products for food consumption. Any effort which has for its purpose the intelligent enlargement of our market for corn is to be commended and, if successful, the results should be helpful not alone to the farmers but, through their increased purchasing power, to industry in general and therefore to all citizens. Permit me to take occasion to say that this recognition of the unfortunate situation in which the farmers of the country now find themselves and the many evidences of the desire to help through such efforts as you are now making is most hopeful.

Trusting that your plans may work out beyond your fondest hopes, I am,

very sincerely,

(Signed)

Some Ex-Service Men Are Opposing Bonus

St. Louis, Mo., Feb. 15.—In an advertisement appearing in today's papers over the names of ex-service men, an appeal is made to the public and congress to oppose the proposed soldier bonus legislation. Many of those whose names appear in the advertisement are members of local posts of the American Legion.

"We, the undersigned," the advertisement reads, "ex-service men, members and non-members of the American Legion, regard the soldier bonus as contrary to the ideals which prompted our military service and economically unsound. We believe the wounded and disabled ex-service men should be immediately and adequately provided for by the government."

A local American Legion post has adopted a resolution in protest against the advertisement, which according to the resolution did not express the views of ex-service men in general.

APPLY SULPHUR TO HEAL UP YOUR SKIN

Broken Out Skin and Itching Eczema Helped Over Night

For unsightly skin eruptions, rash or blotches on face, neck, arms or body, you do not have to wait for relief from torture or embarrassment, declares a noted skin specialist. Apply a little Menthosulphur and improvement shows next day.

Because of its germ destroying properties, nothing has ever been found to take the place of this sulphur preparation. The moment you apply it healing begins. Only those who have had unsightly skin troubles can know the delight this Menthosulphur brings. Even fiery, itching eczema is dried right up.

Get a small jar from any good druggist and use it like cold cream.

Northwestern University, it became known today. Kenneth King of Denver, Col. has been elected president of the club whose foremost purpose is summed up in the following quotation from the constitution:

"Whereas women are smoking cigarettes, wearing goggles, both buckled and unbuckled, and otherwise preening into realisms heretofore restricted to men only.

"Be it resolved that we, the Beta Chapter of the Anti-Effeminacy Club, shall shun and otherwise lay off the habits of the lounge lizard and the arm chair Napoleon."

Included in the by-laws are provisions requiring each member to equip himself with one pipe, corn cob, briar or clay; punishing with a fine of not more than $200 a member who powders his face after shaving; banning

"wasp waisted" suits, "bell bottomed" trousers, décollete collars and baby ribbon neckties under penalty of death.

Housing Conference Tabooed by Harding
 By Associated Press Leased Wire
 Washington, Feb. 15.—President Harding, in a letter to Senator King, Democrat, of Utah, made public today by the latter, declared he considered it inadvisable at this time to call a national housing conference. The executive also asserted that he did not know "of a legislative palliative to relieve home shortages, and added that he very much doubted "if we ought to try to create one."

Harrisburg Phones Damaged By Blaze

By Associated Press Leased Wire
 Harrisburg, Ill., Feb. 15.—Telephone service was stopped here by a fire today which destroyed the upper part of the Saine Trust & Savings bank building. The total loss is estimated at $75,000 which is partly covered by insurance.

The fire originated by a pipe between the walls and ceiling of the fourth floor, it is believed, and destroyed the offices of the O'Garra Coal Company on that floor. The offices of Charles V. Parker on the third floor were ruined by fire and water, while the telephone exchange on the second floor of the building was put out of commission by water.

Howat Wins First Bout with Lewis

Indianapolis, Ind., Feb. 15.—Alexander Howat, deposed Kansas miners leader, won the preliminary skirmish of his fight at the special convention of the United Mine Work of America here today against the action of the union administration officers expelling Howat and creating a provisional district government for the union in Kansas.

By a rising vote of 977 to 864, the delegates decided to consider Howat's appeal to override the administration officers' orders and immediately a roll call was ordered, probably delaying a final decision until tomorrow.

Meanwhile, all consideration of wage scale matters was deferred.

MRS. HATFIELD

SABINA, OHIO

In Pitiable Condition When She Began Taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Sabina, Ohio.—"I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for my weakness and irregularity. I was weak and nervous and could hardly stand on my feet long enough to cook a meal. I was this way for about a year and had tried several medicines and had a physician, but to no avail. My sister was taking your medicine and finally induced me to try it. I now feel fine and can do my housework without any trouble at all. You can use this letter for the sake of others if you wish."

WELDON G. HATFIELD, R. R. 3, Sabina, Ohio.

Housewives make a great mistake in allowing themselves to become so weak and nervous that it is well-nigh impossible for them to attend to their necessary household duties.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound should be taken when you first notice such symptoms as nervousness, backache, weakness and irregularity. It will help you and prevent more serious trouble.
